Sengistix utilizes a wide variety of coordinated sensors to provide a "complete package." Custom monitoring tailored to meet unique individual needs. We continually monitor activity, or lack of activity, through our 24/7 Sengistix Response Center to ensure that individuals are safe. Sengistix is responding to the transformation of the health and human services system by bringing new automated sensing technology solutions to caregivers that improve safety, enhance the quality of life, and increase options for greater independence for all individuals requiring support.
